Police Dog Puppies and Live Stock to Be Sold for Babies' Milk Fund.

There will be music, fortune telling and surprises.

Assisting Mrs. Whitney and her daughter, Miss Joan Whitney, will be Mrs. Edward Livingston Smith, Mrs. Arthur Iselin, Mrs. Charles Steele, Mrs. Guyon Payne Whitney, Miss Barbara Whitney, Mrs. Philip Boyer, Mrs. Courtlandt Dixon Barnes, Mrs. Cornelius N. ## POLICE COMMISSIONER ENRIGHT SAILS TO TUNES OF TWO BANDS

Mrs. Gurnee Munn and her son, Gurnee Munn, Jr., sailing on the Olympic.

Goes Abroad to Invite Heads of Foreign Departments Here for Conference.

With two bands, a Mayor, a glee club, a police boat, two fireboats, a seaplane and a retinue of police of all ranks, Commissioner Enright sailed yesterday for Europe on the White Star liner Olympic. Among the other 1,529 passengers on board were Field Marshal French, Earl of Ypres, the Baroness de Cartier, wife of the Belgian Ambassador to the United States; Mr. and Mrs. Gurnee Munn and their son, Gurnee Munn, Jr.; Joseph Hofmann, pianist; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer and Irving T. Bush, president of the New York Chamber of Commerce.

Before leaving Commissioner Enright said aside his customary reticence to reiterate that the six weeks' trip abroad with Mrs. Enright was "to make an inspection of police methods" at Paris, Rome, Venice, Vienna, Berlin, London, Edinburgh and Dublin. The Commissioner spent his vacation last winter in the Bahamas. Mayor Hylan, Commissioner Grover Whalen and a number of other city officials said farewell to the Commissioner in the intervals when the police reserve and street cleaning bands were not contending against the noisy bustle of departure. The police glee club also took a hand by singing in rapid succession "Farewell" and "Enright, You're All Right, We'll Go Through Hell for You." The authorship of the latter selection could not be learned yesterday in the confusion of sailing time.

Special Police Commissioner Rodman Wanamaker sailed with Commissioner Enright. Dr. John A. Hays, special deputy commissioner in charge of traffic, was to have sailed, but at the last moment got a telegram which he said

From then until late Wednesday night, when the last echoes of the alumni festivities are heard on the campus, Morningglades will be the scene of a long program of events, culminating with formal graduation and the conferring of the degrees on Wednesday, Commencement Day.

The first of the big spectacles of commencement week will be staged this afternoon, when a large gathering of alumni and friends and family of the 1922 graduates will assemble at Morningglades. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached by the chaplain of the university, the Rev. Raymond C. Knox.

The service will be conducted by the Rev. Rudolf H. Brooks, rector of St. Paul's Church, Albany, N. Y., a graduate of Columbia in the class of 1900. Alfred Marling, a member of the board of trustees, will read the lesson. A special music program, the full university chapel choir participating, has been arranged by Walter Henry Hall, professor of church and choral music. Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the university; trustees, department heads and prominent alumni from many cities will attend. Members of the teaching staff in academic dress will occupy places in the stalls. The baccalaureate service begins at 4 P. M., the order according with the traditional forms and ending with "Stand, Columbia," by G. O. Ward of the class of 1902.

The big alumni event of the week will be the luncheon in the gymnasium on Commencement Day. The speakers will be Baruch de Carter, Belgian ambassador; Augustus Thomas, playwright; the Rev. Herbert Shipman, bishop suffragan of New York, and Dr. Butler.

More than thirty classes will take part in the costume parade to be staged on South and Baker fields on Wednesday. Campus night will be revived, and from 8 to 11 on Tuesday there will be a big university party, shared in by faculty, alumni, graduating classes, undergraduates, parents and friends.

There will be music and dancing out of doors, and a program of organ music in Saint Paul's Chapel. Class dinners, election of the alumni trustee, presentation of the Ware memorial and laying of the Faculty House cornerstone are other events.

"SECOND CARUSO" IS HISSED IN BERLIN

Bernardo de Muro Breaks Down in "Il Trovatore."

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau.

Berlin, June 3.—Bernardo de Muro, who is said to have refused a large offer to appear in America and who was billed as "the second Caruso," was hissed by the audience last night in the National Opera.

He had refused the American offer, he said, because of his love for German music and because it was his ambition to make his first success in Berlin.

Wishing to give him every chance he was cast in "Il Trovatore," but last night he broke down. He will appear again in "Aida," but the critics are doubtful of his success. De Muro was more widely heralded than any opera singer in years.

Daughter of Postmaster Receives Bequest From Former Rector.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. RIVERHEAD, L. I., June 3.—Miss Marie Hope, 30 years old, daughter of the Postmaster of Holtsville, who came forward soon after the death of Ezekiel Braddon Hamilton, lawyer, real estate owner and former clergyman, who died here April 1, and said she and Mr. Hamilton had been engaged to be married, receives a bequest of $500 under the will of the lawyer-clergyman, which was filed to-day at the Surrogate's office here. Miss Hope is one of four women named by Mr. Hamilton in the instrument, in explanation of which he says: "I give $500 to each of the above friends who helped to make my life happy."

The other three are Grace M. Worrell, Portland, Ore.; Eleanor B. Southwick, 339 Thayer street, Providence, R. I.; and Norine S. Brown, 2446 Creston avenue, The Bronx.

Mr. Hamilton formerly was prominent socially and maintained a summer home at Newport. He afterward was assistant rector of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, Manhattan, and then entered the real estate business in Suffolk county. No mention is made in the will of his wife, Augusta Rosalie Stevenson of Germantown, Pa., whom he married in 1896 and from whom he later was divorced. The bulk of the estate, on which no value was placed, goes to relatives. Nine bequests of $5 are made to brothers, sisters and other relatives. Three pieces receive half of the residuary estate, included in which is a residence at Southampton valued at $20,000.
